23 December 2024 – Miami

Global football governing body FIFA has confirmed the appointment of BEYOND Hospitality to deliver the Official Hospitality programme for its prestigious club tournament, the FIFA Club World Cup™ 2025.

This truly global event will feature the most successful club teams from each of the six regional confederations – AFC, CAF, Concacaf, CONMEBOL, OFC and UEFA – marking a new cross-league format that will revolutionise club football.

FIFA President Gianni Infantino has called the upcoming FIFA Club World Cup™, “the beginning of a new era of club football - the biggest and best global club competition that the planet has ever seen...” For BEYOND, it also means a new opportunity to redefine remarkable hospitality.

Executive Chairman of BEYOND Hospitality Jaime Byrom said: “Clubs are at the very heart of football. This inaugural FIFA Club World Cup 2025™ will be a pivotal moment in the evolution of the club game, tapping into that passionate fandom and offering teams from every confederation a prestigious stage to showcase their talent – and we are excited to welcome guests to experience this in some of the world's best stadiums and hospitality facilities”

“BEYOND will offer a range of excellent options for that elevated tournament experience our customers deserve. We are proud to be entrusted with the opportunity to contribute in the launch of this exciting chapter in world football and look forward to welcoming guests to a fittingly grand hospitality programme,” Byrom added.

For the inaugural event, being held in the USA, BEYOND will offer an exciting hospitality programme that meets FIFA's high standards and captures the entertainment style and excitement of US hospitality. Official Hospitality for the FIFA Club World Cup 2025™ will be available in multiple product tiers, and bundled packages known as Series – such as Venue Series which allows fans to make a stadium their home base and Final Round Series for those who want to catch every thrilling moment of the tournament culmination.

All Official Hospitality products are inclusive of a match day ticket, as well as food and beverage services, and hospitality benefits commensurate with the product purchased.

“With the FIFA Club World Cup™ due to set new standards for club football worldwide, we’re delighted to have secured the services of an experienced and innovative industry expert in the shape of BEYOND Hospitality, which will offer cutting-edge hospitality services for fans from across the world, thereby further enhancing the appeal of this unique competition,” said FIFA Secretary General Mattias Grafström.

“This agreement is an important milestone in FIFA’s quest to maximise the fan experience in what promises to be an outstanding competition that will rewrite club football history. The FIFA Club World Cup will be the pinnacle of the global club game on and off the pitch.”

All thirty-two teams have now qualified including Chelsea, Real Madrid, Bayern Munich, Manchester City, Juventus, and Inter Miami, which will see countless icons of the game out on the pitches in Atlanta, Los Angeles, Miami and more. Twelve stadiums have been selected as the venues to host the tournament’s 63 matches, with the final set to be held at MetLife Stadium in New York/New Jersey on 13 July.
